2. We aren't perfect but we keep costs down
 - x. Looks forward to working with GPSS
 - xii. VEISHEA, no feels good about VEISHEA and its disappointment. I was there when the decision was made. Much thought went into it. Think of it through a historical context and the numerous riots. In the past, it was always about the out-of-town influence, this time it was students, it was us. Social media can be blamed. Selfies. Video. People ran to the crowd rather than away. Safety is the highest value. Nobody feel good about the decision. This has gone on for years, particularly when it is us doing it. No matter what the decision, people would have been disappointed. We chose safety instead and cancelled to try to avoid an potential injury on any following day. How do we change this focus from a week long party and back to where it started up? Focus on leadership and service. The solution is not to close the bars and put tanks on the street with police.
 - xiii. Funding from the state legislature does benefit graduate students too, not just faculty. There are a few presidential fellowships. Matching funds also available. For about a total of 75 centrally funded GAs. New funding awards to the university are up about 25% from where they were last year.
 - xiv. Funding RAs and GAs will attract new graduate students. As enrollment grows, funds for TAs will increase too. New facilities. New programs also being introduced. Developing the Iowa State Brand. VEISHEA will push the brand down a bit.
 - xv. Rent has gone up by 33%. Assistantships may not be keeping up. Assistantship data = 2007 -> $1250/3000, 2013 $1600/3600, 2014 $1700/4000, 2015 $1800/4400. Currently reviewing our competitiveness to our peers and compare it to cost of living. Additional housing is being added to the community to address some of the price increases.
 - xvi. Has ISU considered using an external benchmark to measure graduate experience? Dialogue that needs to take place on the communication channels that already exist to address your experience. Writing center, career services, good additions, but still need your feedback.
 - xvii. Family housing options? Please seek out Pete England from Department of Residence to discuss concerns.
